Marsden BAS-250:

A portable, low cost scale for weighing babies and toddlers at home

The Marsden BAS-250 is a low cost baby scale which is ideal for home use. It is a great way to track a child's growth from the early months of their life, through to toddler age

Keep regular check of your child's weight

The BAS-250 is a great low cost weighing scale which is ideally suited to weighing babies and children at home.

The large LCD display clearly shows the weight reading to the nearest 10g - and, for babies, a measure along the side of the scale allows you to measure their height.

An optional carry case or rucksack are available for easy transportation and storage.

Due to the compact shape and size this scale can be stored absolutely anywhere - like a cupboard or under a bed!

Lightweight and portable construction

Rucksack and carry cases available

Perfect for babies and toddlers

Large, clear LCD display

Quick and easy to use

To start using the scale simply press the power button on and you are good to go. Lightweight and powered by AA batteries this is a truly portable scale. It can be used absolutely anywhere regardless of where the nearest plug socket is.

The BAS-250 has a Tare function, to remove unwanted weight (like a towel, for example) and a Memory Recall button, which allows the user to recall the previous weight reading. The units button switches the scale from weighing in kg, to weighing in lb.

Built to last

The Marsden BAS-250 is robustly built and designed to stand the test of time and last. This scales is backed by a full two year warranty.
